“ Bradley, you would have been 30 this year... you'd be brilliant and beautiful as you always were. This week I went through our stuff for the first time in 2 years. Spent hours with it. Of course, it's gotten easier to deal with as time passes....it took years. In my nearly 30 years of life, I've never felt such pain as I did when I lost you. I didn't think I'd ever be the same again and I'm not but I am okay and I know you are now too. Your soul is dearly missed on this Earth, although i don't think it was ever meant for this place. I've met many old souls but your wisdom transcended your years in a way you didn't even seem human sometimes (you always said you weren't and as crazy as it sounds I really believed it). Your energy is and always will be unmatched. You hold a special place in my heart and remain a part of my soul. Thank you for all the signs, letting me know you're still with me. I love and miss you greatly. Until we meet again, my love. 🌻🦋☐✨

“ My sweet Bradley, tonight marks 6 years you left our sight. We know you're still with us in spirit. I try not to think of this day hour by hour how it all happened but I do..... I remember it all like it just happened. I'll be ok day after tomorrow but today and tonight are tough. You're so missed. Still loved without measure! See you again someday! — love mom

“ Happy Birthday in heaven, Giggs. Of course we'd all like to spend it with you but I'm quite sure your company there is more than awesome! Not only that but I know your spirit connects with us somehow when we have days like these. I know you're closer than we think! Mom loves you!

“ It's another new year, another year without our sweet Bradley to share with, at least earthly celebrations. Where you are time is irrelevant anyway. But for us it's a big factor. Especially because we have to wait until the wonderful day when we can see you and all the others there watching for us to arrive. We all still miss you like an amputated limb! But we know you're not so far away really.....hug your daddy for me! Mom loves you immeasurably!

“ It's been 2 years... I wish we could take this journey together. There are so many things I wish I could ask you. You showed me so much. We thought so much alike. I miss that. I'll always miss that. Maybe in our next life we will have more time together. Still waiting for the day our souls meet again. Until then. I love you Bradley. Thinking of you.

“ Bradley, Tomorrow marks a year since we lost you. Your death certificate says July 30, but we know when that car hit you, you were gone, and that was the 29th. Austin, Taylor, me and the rest of your family are remembering everything that happened, big and small that led up to this. I won't ever forget Austin's phone call to me that night. We've missed you from that point till now and will forever. Thank you for the dream visit. It changed me..I believe everything you said to me, in life and in the dream. You're ok... you looked so beautiful, your smile so radiant, your eyes crystal blue! It was my gift from you. I begged for a sign and you came through! Thank you baby....we will look for you some sweet day when it's our time. I'm loving you.....we know you're near, just beyond that veil. Pray for us.

“ Hello! I'm Bradley's mom, Karen. I just found this page and it couldn't have come at a better time. We miss Bradley so much...more now than ever. Now, as his 24th birthday approaches, it's becoming more difficult to wrap our brains around the fact that he's not with us in the physical. We DO, however, look for his free spirit in all of nature....in the laughter of Maddi and Mycah, in the soft raindrops that fall, and even the green leaves of a beautiful old tree! He always yearned for everyone to understand there's more to be seen after this life. I believe he has full confirmation of that now, don't you? So..think about him when you hear a song he loved. Live your lives like it's your last walk on earth. And when our time comes, he will surely have saved us a seat in that special circle. In that blissful place he saw in his dreams before he actually made that trip. Keep Austin and me in your prayers. We miss him so much our hearts hurt but we know he is telling us that he is finally free now and better than ok! I love and appreciate all of you...the ones of you I know and those I'd like to meet someday. If I had known that my goodbye to him that day was my last, I'd still be holding him. Peace be with you all!
