“ Kevin was the WORLD'S GREATEST UNCLE!! My first memory of Kevin was when he married my Aunt Rita. They were and continued to be happy. So happy. So in love. Kevin taught me board games and card games. Tried once to teach me Chess lol. He was such a kind man. He was at every birthday party, get together, holiday, weddings. Always with a smile. He was a gentle soul who will forever be missed!!! Fly high Uncle Kevin. I can see him and my daddy in Heaven. Playing Rouke or Chess.

“ Kevin was the WORLD'S BEST UNLCE. Kevin taught me board games, card games. Tried to teach me Chess lol. He was always at get togethers, vacations, holidays, birthdays, weddings always with a smile. Uncle Kevin. I remember him coming into my life when I was young. I know he loved my Aunt Rita. I remember how happy they were. Always. He was such a kind man. A gentle soul who will be forever missed.

“ Whenever I struggled with being confident or facing something in my life that I was sure I wasn't ready for, my dad always told me: "Be brave, little piglet." He always knew how to make me laugh. Even though it was just an inside joke between us, I find I turn to those words more often than not when I need the strength to face my day. Even not by my side, he is always with me. I love you, Daddy, always.
