“ The season I remember our Nikko in lives forever in the warmth of the smile he’s wearing in this photo. He was the baby of our generation full of love, always close to his brothers and his mama. He loved purely, the way only a child can. Even at this young age, he was already proud to be a “Huntsville Boy.”

Standing beside him is a sweet girl from another generation who adored him proof of how easily his spirit touched those around him. Nikko had a way of making everyone feel seen, loved, and safe.

Nikko, I’m sorry I didn’t get to know you more in the newer seasons of your life. I’m sorry I didn’t see you as you were growing into the man you were becoming. But I want you to know you have always had a place in my heart. The memories I have of you are folded gently into my hands, and I will never let them go.-Aloha ‘Oe, Cynthia Longwood and Ohana
